This Week's Message from Mr. Ference

Students had the opportunity to learn about the role of a service dog and bird habitats. The second grade learned about various bird habitats across our country from the National Aviary outreach program. The special guest star from the Aviary was Dumbledore, a Eurasian Eagle-Owl. In addition, our other students met Foxy, a specially trained medical service dog for a disabled Veteran. Students learned of the medical training and the relationship between the dog and the Veteran. I am proud to say that our students were very attentive during the assemblies!

Happy Thanksgiving to our students and families as we end this week. May Thanksgiving bring you joy and happiness as you spend time with your family and friends.
